Leading Fund Administration Firm Selects G2 Systems' Robust Tax Analysis Tool, TaxGopher™ For Reporting of Trading Activities

BOSTON & NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Kaufman Rossin Fund Services, an independent, full-service provider of administration services to the investment community, announced today that it has selected G2 Systems' tax analysis engine TaxGopher to enhance its fund administration services. "TaxGopher is a clear leader in wash sales and cost basis reporting software," said Robert B. Rafferty II, head of Kaufman Rossin's Boston office. "With the SEC's recent mandate on tax reporting guidelines, we've been looking for the necessary tools to provide portfolio managers with a better snapshot of the key data needed for up-to-date tax reporting on all trading activities."

"We are pleased that Kaufman Rossin has chosen our product for its tax analysis activities," said George Michaels, principal of G2 Systems. "TaxGopher provides a very clear picture of the tax ramifications of all trading activities. Its robust out-of-the box reports and the ease with which it integrates into portfolio accounting platforms make it truly unique."
